Edith began playing the guitar at the age of seven. Only a year later, she was already winning first prizes in national competitions. She entered the Conservatoire à Rayonnement Régional de Paris, where she studied with Gérard Abiton and earned her Diplôme d'Études Musicales in classical guitar at the age of fourteen.

Edith Pageaud is the first-prize winner in the Drôme de Guitares competition, the Roland Dyens International Competition, the Florence International Guitar Competition, and the Rust International Competition "Alirio Diaz" in Austria.

Program includes works by Mertz, Glass, Biber, Rachmaninoff, Scarlatti, Rameau, Yupanqui, Kapsberger, Piazzolla & Tansman.
